Work Hours

Learn how to manage and report on resident/fellow work hours. Track trainee work hours and easily visualize violation details. Configure rules according to your program, import the daily schedule to reduce redundant data entry, and include sign-off options that require trainees to verify a complete log.

- Take advantage of several reports to keep track of who is logging their hours and where any violations exist
- Enable automatic notifications to alert you when violations occur and to remind residents to log their hours
- View trends and other information that may be causing violations
