RMS Knowledge Base Update

New Innovations has begun revamping the knowledge base with an easy to navigate template featuring tabs and accordion files so you can see article titles at a glance and only expose those you wish to read. Broken links or blank pages may be encountered during this update.

Block Gaps - What are they and why are they bad?

For each day of your academic year, a rotation needs to be marked as "Primary". When this does not happen a block gap will occur. A block gap will also occur if an "Unspecified" rotation is listed in the block schedule.

When a trainee has a block gap in their schedule, this will cause FTE's to be off, billing will not generate, trainees will not get matched for evaluations, and sites will not know when they are coming.

How do I know if my program has block gaps?

Run a block gap report at least monthly by going to Schedules - Gap Locator. Additional instructions can be found here. If you have any questions on how to correct a block gap, please be sure to email or call us.
